How to Participate

Premium Sale:

Buyers are bidding on animals on a premium basis in dollars per head, and are not actually purchasing the animal. Buyers will not be given the option to also purchase the animal after winning the premium bid.

Bidding in dollars per head instead of price per pound allows buyers to know exactly how much premium is to be paid. Premiums normally range from $400 to $700, but can go higher. Many buyers choose to pool money with other buyers, or provide the auction committee with a set amount to spend as needed.

What if I want meat in my freezer?

Hogs can be purchased before the fair by contacting Bessie Eckhoff 785-410-8902. Beef, sheep, and goats can be purchased directly from 4-Hers, and those plans need to be made before fair time too. Hogs will be delivered directly to a nearby locker (Clay Center/Junction City, or Alta Vista) The buyer will pay the 4-Her the agreed upon price for the animal, and will also owe the locker plant for processing charges.
