

Investing Basics 101 by Gary D. Fike, County Extension Director

Do you have your money working for you? Are you getting the kinds of returns on investment you think you should be getting? How do I invest in the stock market? Are bonds for me? What is the difference between Treasury bills and Treasury bonds? Should I invest in Bitcoin? I am nearing retirement, how risk tolerant should/can I be?

These questions and more will be answered if you join us for “Investing Basics 101”, a class offered by Riley County K-State Research and Extension on three consecutive Tuesdays in November from Noon to 1:00 p.m. The dates are November 9, 16, and 23. You can join in any or all of the sessions. There is no fee, but we do ask that you pre-register so that we know what to expect for crowd size for those who choose to join in person.

Attendees can join in person at the second floor conference room at the Riley County Office Building at 110 Courthouse Plaza in Manhattan, or you can join via Zoom. Those who choose to join via Zoom will be emailed a link to join in the class.

To enroll, simply call our office, at 785-537-6350 and ask to be enrolled in the Investment class. Please leave us an email address and a phone number so that we can send you a link. Your email address will not be used for any other purpose.

For questions about the program, contact Gary at the extension office.
